Item 16: Local Government Remuneration Tribunal Sets Councillor Fees

The Local Government Remuneration Tribunal handed down its report for 2010-11.

The Local Government Remuneration Tribunal (the Tribunal) sets the range of fees for all councillors and mayors in NSW each year. In determining the increase to the range of fees, the Tribunal invites submissions from councils and the LGSA.

Having regard to a number of key economic indicators and the views of the assessors, the Tribunal determined that an increase of 4.2 percent in fees for councillors and mayors is appropriate. The increases are effective on and from 1 July 2011.
